

To whom it concerns: The attempt to stop local content in satellite radio broadcasts is misguided. When I want true local content I tune a local station of my choice. But if I am traveling to and through a major metropolitan area having current and accurate travel and weather information is not only convenient but it is a safety issue. An informed driver is a safer driver. It can be difficult to find this information on a local station either because it is not available or one cannot find the station on their radio. Please do not take this valuable service away from the traveling public.
